A solution designed for your exact requirements

iConnectFX™ is the world's first and only hyper-converged community engagement platform that combines the functionality of six (6) separate applications (listed below) into one seamless solution to maximize efficiencies, reduce support requirements, and increase automation & scalability all while cutting costs:

- Event Management
- Webinar & Online Conference
- Distance Learning
- Live Streaming
- Video Sharing
- e-Commerce Shopping

The Hyper-Converged Advantage

iConnectFX™ utilizes a combination of applications to achieve unprecedented levels of engagement never before thought possible.

Event coordinators will cherish the speed and simplicity of event creation/management for even the most complex venues with in-person, webinar, and live-stream sessions and attendee self-service capabilities with full mobile device compatibility.

Bloggers, vloggers, pastors, etc. will appreciate the ability to start live-streaming with a click of a button and automatically record and promote content to the world in seconds dramatically increasing their audience and potential to generate revenue through donations, subscriptions, and sales from previously untapped, global resources.

Instructors will treasure the ability to engage their students in real-time with genuinely interactive sessions where individualized instruction is critical to ensure each student is given the attention, guidance, and flexibility in their learning process to enhance their academic growth along the way.

Simple, Cost-Effective, and Easy to Use iConnectFX™ provides users with simple, wizard-driven, user-friendly screens, and interactive help resulting in successful end-user adoption and significantly reduced support requirements. And all you need is a recent model computer/laptop with a working webcam and microphone.
